

Meet Dr. Alice Jeromin, DVM, DACVD

Dr. Alice Jeromin graduated from the University of Toledo College of Pharmacy in 1977 with a B.S. in Pharmacy. She worked as a hospital pharmacist at Marymount Hospital and Cuyahoga Falls General Hospital for eight years before attending The Ohio State University College of Veterinary Medicine, graduating in 1989 with a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree (D.V.M.).

Dr. Jeromin became a board-certified veterinary dermatologist in 1993 after a residency with Dr. Patrick Breen, Diplomate ACVD, Cincinnati, Ohio. Her grant-funded research dealt with Sebaceous Adenitis in the Standard Poodle. She is an adjunct professor at Case Western Reserve University College of Medicine, past president of the Cleveland Academy of Veterinary Medicine, a member of the Cleveland Dermatological Society, American Veterinary Medical Association, Ohio Veterinary Medical Association, Summit County Veterinary Medical Association, Ohio Veterinary Medical Association's liaison committee with the Ohio State Board of Pharmacy, and is a member of AVMA Council on Biologics and Therapeutic Agents.

Dr. Jeromin continues to teach, lecture locally and internationally, and is a contributing author to DVMNewsmagazine (www.dvmnewsmagazine.com). She shares an 1805 log home that she and her pharmacist husband have restored with six rescued cats and two elderly Golden Retrievers.
